

Press Release: For Immediate Release: August 1st, 2006

Outsider Folk Art Gallery
Goggleworks Center of the Arts
201 Washington Street
Reading, PA 19601

Presents: "Berks Visionaries" September 9th through October 1st

Opening reception: Saturday, September 9th from 5-7 p.m.

George and Sue Viener, owners of Outsider Folk Art Gallery, are exhibiting a show of local Berks County self-taught visionary artists from September 9th through October 1st, 2006.

Featured artists:

Sybil Roe Thompson: Captures with her singular vision the streets and architecture of Reading.

David "Big Dutch" Nally: 46 year old Car-Tech steelworker who within his stream of conscious drawings and mixed media assemblages portrays many of the local landmarks.

Mark May: Special Education teacher who constructs various robots using as found and recycled objects.

Matt Deterior: Church town artist who works with mixed media on paper and creates sculptures with clay and found objects.

The show will be held in conjunction with the celebration of Goggleworks first year anniversary.

. The opening reception is Saturday, September 9th from 5-7 p.m.
The reception is free to the public and the press is encouraged to attend.

For more information about the Outsider Folk Art Gallery, visit our web site at www.outsiderfolkart.com or call our gallery at (610)939-1737.